WEST GEORGIA COLLEGE LIBRARY
CARROLLTON, GEORGIA

F O R E W O R D

IN thumbing through this volume perhaps a familiar face, a well remembered campus view will bring trouping across the years remembrances of youthful ideas, of happy college days in the year 1941 when we were living, learning, and working together. Through the years our memories grow dim and become a hazy mass . . . teachers remembered with love, friends lost with time, favored nooks forgotten, dances, current affairs . . . bright threads of memory wound around hearts.

It is our purpose in presenting this year's CHIEFTAIN to bring to you in the future these memories and dreams of the days spent on the West Georgia campus . . . careless, collegiate days . . .

TO THE STUDENT BODY..

TO the students who come to the West Georgia campus, who work toward a goal, who live with a purpose; to those students who contribute to the successes of the various activities on the campus, we, the staff, dedicate this, the eighth volume of the CHIEFTAIN, to you.

DEDICATION

WE GET

THE shining ribbon of highway winds on and through the red hills of Georgia . . . the last bus rounds the curving drive at Genola . . . frightened, empty-faced freshmen stand agog while their trunks and suitcases are deposited on the ground . . . old and new friends are met, acquaintances renewed . . . gay, loud voices chatting on the Ac steps . . . the buildings along the drive, Adamson Hall, Mandeville, Melson . . . the library . . . new ideas as well as old . . . Mr. Ingram, small, dignified, witty president, speaking in chapel . . . Dean Gunn, forever busy . . . Dr. Folger and the rural teachers . . . this is West Georgia.

ACQUAINTED

THE PRESIDENT AND THE DEANS

The AC BUILDING . . . where the more important business of West Georgia is carried on.

IRVINE S. INGRAM, A.B., M.A.
President of West Georgia College

Genola's number one citizen . . . a person who is continually working for the best interests of our community. Through his efforts West Georgia is fast becoming one of the outstanding junior colleges of the South.

W. FRED GUNN, B.S., M.S.
Dean of Administration

DAGNALL F. FOLGER, Ph.D.
Dean of Instruction

Few people are more respected than our deans.

SANFORD LIBRARY

ANNIE BELLE WEAVER, B.A.L.S.
Librarian

MARTHA STONE, B.A.L.S.
Assistant Librarian

This year the library has been remodeled and enlarged. During the construction Miss Weaver moved to the Rural Arts Auditorium to hand out information about deaminization, anaphylaxis and the like.

GYMNASIUM—AUDITORIUM

The scene of various activities . . . dances, games, plays and chapel.

RURAL ARTS

The Home Economics Department, including sewing rooms, food laboratory and lecture rooms, the shops, and the Rural Life classrooms are found in the Rural Arts Building. Here, in the music room, many students while away their hours listening to the great works of music of all time. It was this year that the Carnegie Foundation gave a music set and a library of classical music for student use.

IN THE

WHAT is it that makes West Georgia different? . . . makes Genola UNIQUE? . . . not the junior college, the teacher-training program . . . or its buildings strung along Adamson Memorial Highway . . . but its PEOPLE . . . those who work and obey so obediently that honorable, unwritten law—cooperation . . . from charming Mr. Ingram and the Administration . . . learned faculty . . . lowly "rats" dabbed with orange and black paint . . . sophomores with tales of last year's gay experiences . . . privileged juniors and the newly-born third year . . . all "hard at it" in class, in lab, or in community . . . from all these and everyone who works for West Georgia . . . to all of these runs the spirit of cooperation . . . it is this spirit of having their "noses to the grindstone" that has made the college click . . . that has MADE West Georgia.

The SOPHOMORES and their OFFICERS

LEON STORMS . . . . . President
KENDRICK HUDSON . . . . . Vice-President
HILDA SEAGRAVES . . . . . Secretary-Treasurer

SOPHOMORES . . . Back again to take up projects we'd left, to complete plans we talked about during our first year "away at school."

It was a real thrill to ride back through the gateways and see the campus spread out before us promising us another year of work and play. We wondered happily what this year might hold.

Now we know . . . it's been a fruitful year with its pleasures and its disappointments. Cooperation among students has been foremost . . . cooperation leading to hilarious stunt night, winning basketball teams, conferences, new Sunday night suppers, and Saturday night socials in the gym. All this has blended to make campus life more wholesome, more unified.

With a bit of a love affair, class work, activities, a sprinkling of this, a smattering of that . . . we've finished our year as sophomores. A few perhaps will be numbered among next year's third year group . . . but most of us will be alumni looking back to the time when we and our friends spent happily our days on West Georgia's campus.

FRESHMEN—280 of us—passed through the gates to West Georgia, wandered through the maze of orientation, and learned the ways of the college. Then we began to work; every club received at least one member of our class. Three of our group made the Varsity Basketball Team. We entered into the other activities wholeheartedly . . . Freshman Day and the Freshman Dance . . . The first and last affairs. The Day was full of fun and good sportsmanship and trying to learn the tongue-twister creed; and the dance was the biggest and best of the year. With a year full of mixed emotions . . . happiness and homesickness, fun and gloom, shocks and adjustments, we think: one year has gone . . . one more of new and different experiences to go.

are the hardest.

THE education of rural teachers at West Georgia College is based upon the belief that the rural school can and should contribute to the solution of many of the problems of its community. Its teachers must know how to discover the specific needs of the community and they should be conscious of the relation of the school community to the regional and national scenes. They must understand the principles of commu-

A third year of work for students in teacher education has been added this year in order to have more time in preparing for rural positions. The group has been carefully selected and limited in number so that the work might be intensive rather than extensive until it has been further developed.

THE Officers' Club purposes to bring about harmony between clubs, to coordinate the functions of all clubs, and, as a sort of student governing body, to function as the connecting length between students and faculty.

Throughout the year the club fostered a series of student chapel programs. Buffet suppers for Sunday nights were sponsored. Student body elections, election of student members of the Administrative Committee, and selection of cheerleaders were conducted by the club. The club again sponsored the President's Birthday Ball.

THE 1941 CHIEFTAIN

OUR one aim in the production of this yearbook has been to so represent our daily life at West Georgia . . . through pictures and write-ups . . . that when reading it, a day in the college year 1940-41 will be relived.

Babb, Bonner, and Ramsay have been the key men in the production. They encouraged writers, urged good coverage of activities, tried to erase the worried expressions of the staff.

Approaching deadlines always brought their fears. There was a rush to have pictures taken. Layouts had to be made. Staff members burned the midnight oil. Carbon copies were turned out by the ever-noisy typewriters. There were delays and disappointments. There were broken pencil points and jangled nerves.

Now we take a glance backward. We had a task. It is done . . . how well, you are to judge. It will not be perfect, for no annual is. Accept our apologies, our thanks, our best wishes. It was fun!

THE

WORKING under the handicap of inexperience, the WEST GEORGIAN staff assumed the herculean task of maintaining the standard of excellence that had the publication in the top ranks of Junior College newspapers.

Students of the college were afforded entertaining feature material, complete coverage of major chapel addresses, staff descriptions of the sports events, society items, news of club activities. Pertinent, thought provoking editorials and three columns, appearing in each issue, were filled with interesting comments.

WEST GEORGIA PRESS FORUM

THE object of the Press Forum is to stimulate and promote interest in journalistic activities and to maintain a high standard of journalism at West Georgia. To the members of the organization this objective is one of greatest significance and one admittedly requiring continued effort on the part of enthusiastic students.

During the fall quarter the club, in realizing its objective, added a literary quarterly to the campus publications. The new magazine was christened the GEN PEN. Leroy Strain was chosen editor and Melba Morgan was selected as head of the production staff.

MU Zeta Alpha is an honorary scientific society which recognizes student achievement and gives opportunity for student expression. Interest in the sciences and a superior grade for one quarter in any of the sciences or in mathematics are pre-requisites for entrance into the society.

This group has taken deputations throughout the county in an effort to foster interest in health and sanitation problems. The club has also brought educational films to the campus.

ALL students are members of the Voluntary Religious Association, which is guided by a select council.

To fulfill its purpose of stimulating the spiritual life and thought on the campus this group presented a variety of inspirational Sunday vesper services. The council has as its main objective the presentation of deputation programs in nearby churches and schools. The annual Easter trip to Tuskeegee Institute was sponsored.

The religious work on the campus was climaxed by Religious Emphasis Week. This emphasis period was expanded to include five days this year, ending with the annual Parents' Day exercises on Friday, April 25.

THE College Chorus of ninety voices this year for the first time formed a mixed chorus by combining the men's and women's Glee Clubs.

Concerts throughout the year were the highlights of the club's effective activities. A special chorus chosen from within the club was featured on programs for West Georgians and visitors.

The officers who were elected in the Glee Clubs last year held office during 1940-41. Officers for the girls were: Mary Gardner, President; Margaret Burdette, Vice-President; Margaret Burnette, Secretary-Treasurer. For the boys they were: Kendrick Hudson, President; Connie Rowe, Secretary; Leon Storms, Librarian. Jess Purcell served as Business Manager. Gordon Watson ably directed the chorus.

TIME OUT

WEST Georgia supports its athletic program well . . . the administrators, faculty, and students cooperate to support the varsity teams both financially and morally . . . cheer leaders in bright red, white, and blue . . . leading the student body in enthusiastic yells . . . and the able, fighting teams on to victory . . . the Braves' ability is proven by the honor they won in this year's tournament . . . third place in the entire state . . . not only the varsity teams work hard . . . every student takes part in some sport . . . as members of the Physical Education classes . . . tennis, basketball, softball, fencing, shuffle board, badminton, ping pong, and dancing are offered . . . Everybody takes some part and loves it!

FOR PLAY

The

COACH Taylor's West Georgia Braves, employing a system and style of play designed to net points, ended at Tifton one of the best hardwood seasons in the history of the school. Sixteen games won of the seventeen played during the regular season is an excellent record in any league. Three games won and one lost in the State Tournament is also an excellent record.

The winning of an all-tournament position by Paul Rogers, who scored 60 points in four games and 328 during the season, two All-Southern Coach and Athlete forwards, the famous Rogers cousins, and honorable mention regarding a tournament guard's position by Dickie Butler are additional honors not to be forgotten. The Braves scored 943 points to 700 for their opposition.

The 1941 quintet, led by Captain Dan Rogers who was the only regular returning from last year's star squad, opened the season by downing the boys from Southern Union College, a traditional opening opponent, 32-25. Three nights later a greatly improved team subdued the Carrollton Redskins 49-19.

Reinhardt College was defeated on their court 36-15 to begin a series of campaigns which saw successful action on many fronts including Geor.gia Evening College, Gordon Military College, Rabun Gap College, Young Harris College, North Georgia College, and Fort Benning. The winning streak ran to twelve consecutive games before the Braves invaded North Georgia at Dahlonega on February 8 and lost to a good team on a small court 49-34. The charges of Coach Taylor recoiled from this set-back to win the remainder of their games, which included the City Championship of Carrollton, and a trip to the State Tournament with the best record of any team in the State.

The Tournament fireworks began in Tifton with the Braves tangling with the Cadets from North Georgia. Two extra periods were needed to down the Cadets and their band 48-46. This game was won by Dickie Butler. Coming up from the bottom of a pile of Cadets, he cork-screwed himself upward, dropping the ball through the basket as the final whistle sounded. This was undoubtedly the best game of the Tournament play-off, with the cunning precision in timing plays, long range artillery, and excellent team work by each boy on the floor. The Golden Stallions from Abraham Baldwin lost a heart-breaking game to the Braves in the second round 36-35. Mike Herndon's boys from South Georgia College were too much and the second game of the season was lost. The Braves capped the third-place trophy by outlasting the Geechies from Armstrong College, 40-30.

COACH RHEA A. TAYLOR
MANAGER IRWIN DYER

The Braves have promise of another great team next year. Captain Dan Rogers, forward, and Billy Denton, guard, are the only losses, provided Uncle Sam doesn't think Paul Rogers can do more for him than for West Georgia. Roy McGraw, center, is Captain-elect for the coming year.

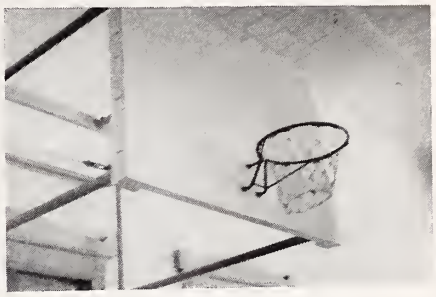
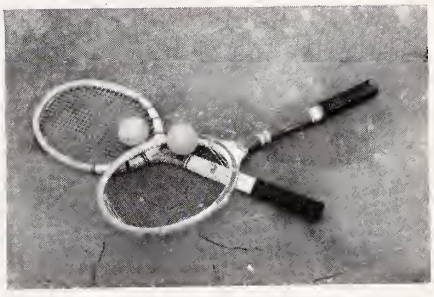
INTRAMURAL SPORTS

SPEEDBALL . . . tennis . . . basketball . . . ping pong . . . badminton . . . golf . . . horse shoes . . . shuffleboard . . . softball . . . fencing . . . every student may enter into some phase of intramural activity. From early fall until the last roll is called in the spring sports enthusiasts in every field find time to participate in some activity.

Speedball is the major event in the fall with the boys' physical ed. classes vying for the BEST TEAM. Twelve letters were given to the winning team. With basketball in the winter quarter there were grand displays of constant practice, excellent teamwork, and sportsmanship. Six boy and six girl players were presented intramural letters for their outstanding work on the court. Tennis tournaments are held both in the fall and in the spring. During the tournaments the courts were crowded with players working hard to win their matches. To the five top-ranking girls and to the five top-ranking boys in both the freshman and sophomore classes intramural letters were given. Intramural softball is a real attraction in the spring. The series is played in two divisions, the winner of each division clashing for a final victory. The winning team received eleven intramural letters.

These physical education activities foster a feeling of friendly rivalry, fraternity, good sportsmanship, and instill a joy for play among all participants.





THE GIRLS PLAY

THIS year, the 1941 basketball squad, led by Captain Avis Loughridge, high scorer for the season with 175 points, and Elsie Gosdin, runner-up with 106 points, won 12 games out of the 12 they played. Ably coached by Tudor Trotter and managed by Carolyne Turner, the Squaws made athletic history this year.

Those who played were: LaVerne Bedgood, Elsie Gosdin, Eloise Hackett, Rozzelle Hyatt, Katherine Hooks, Joy Jackson, Margaret Johnson, Avis Loughridge, Cenelle Loughridge, Melba Morgan, Jane McCain, Sara Nell Popham, Hildreth Striplin, Hilda Seagraves, Alice Swint, Emily Whitaker, Martha Jo Williams, and Carolyne Turner, manager.

F. F. A. BASKETBALL

THE F. F. A. Chapter at West Georgia sponsored its second basketball team this season. Against strong competition they won five out of ten games scheduled. The team was composed of H. S. Pinyan, captain and center; Jessie Russell, Paul Dent, Robert Rogers, and Marion King, forwards; Harold Nix, Ralph Pitchford, and Albert Browning, guards; and Ralph Skinner, manager.

Pinyan's smooth passing directed the offense with Dent and Russell leading the scoring. In the defense Nix and Pitchford proved most outstanding. Coach Gurley has high hopes for next year's team since most of the players are returning.

OUR LETTERMEN

W CLUB was organized to stimulate interest in athletic activities at West Georgia College and to promote the best ideals of sportsmanship on the campus. Membership in the club is given to those students who win letters in either varsity or intramural sports. For a candidate to become a full fledged member of the organization the Athletic Council, composed of faculty members, must vote favorably upon his athletic services, sportsmanship and loyalty. An annual banquet held in the spring culminates the year's activities.

COTTON

The Magic Word of the Southland

WHAT OTHER SINGLE CROP CONTRIBUTES MORE BOUNTIFULLY TO THE NEEDS OF MANKIND?

EACH FLUFFY WHITE BOLL yields its multitude of uses. All of us know that its lint clothes the world and sends into the channels of industry many necessities and luxuries that add to man's comfort, well-being and happiness.

TOO FEW, however, know and appreciate the contents of the tiny seeds that nature has so carefully wrapped and protected by the lint to which they cling.

THESE SEEDS are storehouses of wealth for the South, furnishing the raw material from which is made the most valuable single feed for livestock and the delicate, tasty oils and fats sought after by the housewives of the Nation.

WHETHER man travels by rail, highway, or air, the contents of the cotton boll contribute to his safety and comfort. At war or at peace, he is constantly making use of some by-product of this little seed.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER!

September 19—Freshmen see what West Georgia really looks like and donate a little money to the cause.

September 20—Freshmen seem to be happy in spite of placement tests.

September 21—Freshmen still meandering around the campus and getting a taste of college life.

September 22—New and old romances have started. It is just something that naturally goes along with college life—it must be the altitude.

September 23—Some sophs come trickling in, a few pour in. West Georgia student body is slowly but surely growing larger. There is great rejoicing when these DEAR friends meet again. Physical exams begin.

September 24—Still more sophomores pour in and still more physical examinations.

September 25—Classes, and Buddy Floyd starts lining up his women.

September 26—A. T. J. is hanging around a certain little freshman.

September 27—Rotten eggs, rotten tomatoes, rotten apple—ah, just anything rotten—Freshman Boys' Initiation. This is just about the most "punishment" the sophs can inflict upon the "Rats."

September 28—A lost few—Bond without Stark; Longino without Green; Cooper without Appleby; Sims without Dunaway; Morgan without Robinson; Lewis without Whittemore and West Georgia without Waits.

September 29—Boys are "happy about the whole thing" now that that's over.

September 30—Soap, wash rags, towels, housecoats, hair rolled on rags—Say! What is this? Ah! 'Tis only girls' RAT DAY. The array of freshmen are marched into town by the honorable sophomores and compelled to sing "Glory, Glory to the Sophomores."

October 8—The first West Georgian. You really should have seen the look on the freshmen faces when we gave them away. You see, Bill Cleghorn had been selling subscriptions, also "showers." IMAGINE!!!

October 10—Bond without Stark? She doesn't look so lonesome to me. Jenkins is playing football but he's on the second string.

October 12—Girls in their party dresses—the first formal dance. Remember!!!

Sorry, I don't have the slightest idea as to the date but anyway——.

A certain little freshman girl asks someone to show her Maggie Pearl Botts. "Well, well, imagine that!"

A room in the Rural Arts Building, not the dark room, was opened up with brand new furniture and record player for music appreciation.

Time out for Thanksgiving holidays and turkey. Girls, you get to see the boys back home and boy, if you stay at home long enough you might even reform. W. G. C. has its effect on people. A few little Rome girls had never been kissed, they said, until they came down here. Of course we aren't questioning them or calling any names.

"Republican?" . . . "No!" . . . "Democrat?" . . . "Well——" "What's your platform?" "Water, Grits, and Cornbread." That's just a few expressions that came as a result of the election for freshman officers. It was an election of elections! Boys—West Georgia, 32; Southern Union, 25. Girls—West Georgia, 24; Southern Union, 17.

Our first basketball game, and very exciting, too. The "Rogers Boys" swing out. Loughridge (what did you say, Butler?) and Gosdin don't lose any time either.

Cooper and his women—er, pardon me, his woman. "Seagram" you're up now. See how long you can stay put. Didn't you room with "Gracie" Allen last year? O. K., then.

If there were as many gangsters and such around this institution as there are sissies, we could take over Alcatraz and make a private Honky Tonk out of it.

Christmas Holidays—.

If those posts on the front of Mandeville Hall could talk Van Wright would murder them before sunrise.

Hootie has missed breakfast again for the third straight time. The other nine people at his table are getting fat now.

36 per cent—64 per cent.

Freeman can't make up his mind about a girl friend.

Reinhardt—Basketball teams—$3.00.

Ben Payne takes up smoking—well, can you imagine that? I guess he had us fooled. Maybe he is a W. G. C. boy after all.

Some of these annual proofs are definite proof for the theory of evolution that the 102 biology class has been studying.

We hear that Raymond Muggridge keeps a bottle handy for all occasions.

Speaking of bottles—ask Hammond about that bottle he carried around for a week—by mistake—several hours after he came back from Spring Holidays.

Margaret Burdette, I hear your roommate, Virginia Lewis, finally made up her mind even though a little short guy still hangs around. Now think hard, who will it be?

Wonder why Charlotte Weil goes home every week-end. I guess Bill knows why. Mary Clonts' interests, all of them are centered on BRUCE at GEORGIA.

Margaret Conner—hostess in dining hall—Carlton J.—old flames burn again (Raymond).

These chemistry wizards—"Bunker" Hill, Joe Harris, Byrice Stewart, Dannie Gillis, or Sara Flournoy (??).

Rozelle Hyatt—W. G. C. Fields? No! W. C. Yarbrough.

Buddy Floyd might have had a little trouble lining up his women but I think Mary Longino heads the line now.

Glynn Nations and Johnnie Brownlee—roommates. Cooperative workers—Ed and Cotter, respectively.

A certain freshman boy is doing some good substitution for Frank L. with Buddye Slagle, it seems to me.

Mary Ella, is it Bubba or Jack?

Mada, is it—or Fred?

I hear "Lump" Hudson is kinda "sweet" on the younger of the Loughridge sisters.

Leon Storms—He may be a New Yorker but he has lots of Southern friends, eh—amusing, too.

The Rev. Dan Brewster joins us for another year and lines up his lady friends as before.

Grace Leach has a fond feeling toward the Duke of Windsor.

Harriet Fincher and Connie Rowe—after lo, these many, many months.

Can Jeanette B. do the "hula?" Ask some of the girls in Adamson Hall.

"Peggy" Farrar—now what's the word, oh, yea—Reuben!

Katherine Hooks and a sheik from Bowdon—What's all this about?

Lil, "Dalur," Mimi, and Peggy have a time in the dorm—and the room next to the Ward, too. How do you do it, girls?

Orchids to Dannie Gillis—she can still keep that sweet disposition and live in a mad house, too.

Alice Swint has a new "Bob."

"Teeny" Tankersley is destined to go with a "Dan." She has gone with two in the past two years.

Anna and Jane—roommates and two smart gals—they're doing O. K. for themselves.

Onions to all who helped darken the desks of many an upright citizen by publishing this CHIEFTAIN. Thanks. Don't mind me really—it was all in fun. Well, we've about run out of stuff—"Dat's all chillun."

W. G. C. expressions:

"I MEAN she REALLY did."
"Got my pores open."
"Get your frame out of the way."
'I'll bat h——out of you."
